

Looking for Part-Time or Temporary Work?

July 2010

A guide to finding part time and temporary work

Please seek help from your local Connexions office or alternatively you can click onto www.connexions-direct.com where you can find advice on employment, applications or improve on your CV.

In this pack you will find some useful information about job hunting as well as contact details for companies that employ part-time and temporary staff. The list of companies is a snap shot and does not list every company that has opportunities for young people.

Whatever type of work you are looking for, here are some points to consider before starting your job hunting:

1. The Largest employers of students looking for part-time work are supermarkets, for examples Sainsbury's, Tesco etc.
2. These are followed by chain shops, such as Marks & Spencer, Boots etc.
3. Try to start your job search in the morning, companies will be more receptive. And remember that job searching is in itself a full time job! So an early start is required. You're doing yourself no favours waking up in the afternoon!
4. Avoid going into a shop and asking for a job during their busiest time from 12-3pm.
5. Always have a copy of your typed CV & Covering letter when job hunting. These documents represent your skills and abilities, so make sure you have checked it for mistakes!
6. Sports shops such as JD Sports, First Sport and Nike Town are very popular and competition is fierce, hence your chances of success are very small.
7. You're going to be up against other people with similar skills, so make sure you explain yourself clearly and concisely during an interview.
8. Be aware that some shops eg Gap, Next expect a high level of customer service and you need to know about their company and products.
9. Apart from shops consider Fast Food Restaurants, Sports/Theatre Venues, Sports Centres, Light Cleaning etc.
10. If there are no vacancies, ask to leave your CV & Covering Letter on file for future jobs. Don't be disheartened, as there are lots of other places to try.
11. Don't be disheartened if a company has not got back to you. Try to follow up your applications by giving them a call to find out whether you have been successful or not.

12. Increase your chances of securing an interview by increasing the amount of application. 2 to 5 applications per week is not enough. Try to apply for as many vacancies as you can, there is no set number.
13. Job searching takes a lot of effort and planning, so be focused or get some help with your job search.
14. If you have no success, consider voluntary work half day a week with Oxfam, Scope etc. This will give you useful retail training and work experience. Also look in Thursday's Evening Standard newspaper.

Always be prepared for an interview, have the answers for these questions below:

- Why do you want to work here?
- Tell us about yourself.
- Tell us about your school experience or previous part-time jobs.
- What do you think about customer service?
- Use the internet to gain information on the company and to prepare yourself. There is lots of free advice on interview techniques, CV advice, questions to ask during an interview, telephone techniques etc.

Job - hunting takes time and effort. Preparation is essential for success. It is worth handing your CV into as many retail stores as you can. Vacancies can also be obtained this way. Remember first impressions count, so even if you are dropping off a CV, please look professional!

Good Luck!

Employment Law

For People Under School Leaving Age

Very few employers are prepared to consider employing those under school leaving age. It is very rare for the larger employers listed in this guide to take on those who are still in Year 11 or below and local, independent businesses are more likely to consider taking you on.

If you are under the age of 13 it is against the law to have a job. After your 13th birthday you may have a job, which must be part-time and out of school hours. The maximum is 12 hours in any week during term time. You are also entitled to a rest break of 1hr after 4hrs work.

You cannot work:

- During school hours
- For more than two hours on any school day
- Before 7am or after 7pm - Maximum 12 hours per day
- On any non school day for more than 4 hours without a 1 hour break.
- On any week out of term time for more than 35 hours (25 hours if under 15) Between 7:00am & 7:00pm maximum of 5 hours per day if under 15 years or 8 hours per day if over 15 years.
- For more than 12 hours on any Sunday between 7:00am and 7:00pm.

Young people who have reached the minimum school leaving age but are under 18:

- May not work between 10pm and 6am without a free assessment of their health, physique, maturity, experience and competence to perform night work.
- Must be given a 12 hour rest period between each working day, unless the work is split up over the day.

You are not permitted to work in the following types of jobs: Cinema, Nightclubs, amusement parks, Sunday market stalls, theatre and function halls- unless the performance is given entirely by children.
